Raf Coffee $4.50 cup | $5 mug (offered with vanilla, caramel or hazelnut flavour)

This coffee drink was invented in Russia. It was created around 1996-1997 in Coffee Bean, the first coffee shop in Moscow. Coffee Bean started as a store that sold coffee beans and offered its customers an opportunity to try coffee they were going to buy. Once a regular customer asked the baristas to make something special for him. They created a coffee drink with cream and vanilla sugar. The customer's name was Rafael, so the drink was named after him.

Raf coffee - Espresso beverage with dense and soft foam. The main peculiarity of Raf coffee is that milk and cream are whipped with espresso at the same time, making the drink thick and incredibly delicate.
